SCHOOL SCRAP MAY TOTAL 40 TONS IN BETHEL UNION DIST.

It is not yet possible to give a complete report of the amount of scrap procured by the schools of the Bethel School Union. This is due to the fact that it has not been possible to get it collected and weighed.

The total amount collected and weighed to date is 21 tons of metal and two tons of rubber. It is estimated that there may be nearly as much more.

It is hoped to give a definite report later showing the amount collected by the different towns and schools.

Scrap at the local salvage depot collected from the schools amount to: lbs. metals/lbs. rubber

GOULD 18—LITTLETON 0

The Gould Academy eleven completely surprised Bethel fans with a decided reversal of form to take advantage of every Littleton miscue to win a neat 18-0 victory. The visitors had all the earmarks of a real clubs; but they lacked something, as proven by their numerous penalties, bad passes from center, wrangling between themselves, and continual protesting with the officials. Perhaps it may have been just an off day for them and Gould was due to win their first game of the season.

The victory came through the keen fight put up by the entire team, but a good deal of the credit goes to Emery, who played a smart game, calling the right plays, connecting for five passes, and using perfect judgment in accepting and rejecting penalties. The improved tackling of the local team was noticeable, with Hawkins, Davis, Gilman, and Bradlee turning in some neat jobs. Fackard and Rosenberg did some fine blocking, and Merrill showed himself a powerful runner.

The Littleton club had one of the hardest charging lines Gould has met this year. They often threw Gould backs for losses and held them for no gain often. It was in spots like these that Emery called for passes that eventually paved the way for victory. Another important factor in the game was the punting. Emery and Bradlee got away some excellent kicks for Gould, while the Littleton kicker made numerous poor boots as he was hurried by the Gould line.

The "Blue and Gold" team resorted to passes on 10 occasions. Five fell incomplete, but the other five netted 64 yards, one for a touchdown by Sanborn, and another for 29 yards to Rosenberg to place the ball on the Littleton 1-yd. line. Littleton also threw 10 passes and connected for five; but two of their heaves were intercepted by Merrill. Their successful attempts netted 89 yards. Gould made six first downs, while Littleton built up eight. Numerous penalties marred the game as Littleton was set back a total of 100 yards, which included a 50-yard penalty for slugging, and two 15-yard sothbacks and four penalties of five yards each for off-side. Gould lost ground to the tune of 40 yards with two 15-yard losses for an ineligible receiver and piling up and two off-side penalties.

MRS. EVELIN ELLA RUGG

Bethel friends were sorry to hear of the death of Evelin, wife of Henry Rugg of Pittston.

Mrs. Rugg was formerly of Bethel, the daughter of the late Carlos and Sophronia Morrill Sanborn.

She was born in Albany March 27, 1877, later moving to Bethel where she resided for several years.

On Oct. 12, 1915, she was married to Henry Rugg of Bethel at which time they moved to Kingfield, and for the past 11 years they have resided in Pittston.

She had been in failing health for several months and a patient at the Gardiner General Hospital for eight weeks, where she died Sunday at 12:45 noon.

She always attended the Methodist Church. She had many friends and was always ready to help in time of need. She gave generously of her time and strength for the good of the community in which she lived.

She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Anne Richardson, and one grandson, Bazel Richardson, of Newport, R. I.; one brother, Norman Sanborn, of Bethel; and a half-brother, Leon Sanborn, of Fayette.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Greenleaf's funeral home. Rev. M. A. Gordon, pastor of the Bethel Methodist Church, officiated. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

U. S. FORCES HOLDING GUADALCANAL; ACTIVE ON OTHER FRONTS

The Senate passed legislation to lower the draft age from 20 to 18. The Senate bill did not conform with the one passed earlier by the House, however, so the legislation was sent to conference to adjust the differences.

Educational deferments in the Senate bill would be limited to high school students in the last half of their academic year. The Senate bill would also defer farmers and farm labor from military service wherever their induction would curtail agricultural production, until replacements could be found. The bill would exempt men from Selective Service induction after they have passed their forty-fifth birthdays.

The War Front

Five strong Japanese attempts to wipe out the American foothold on Guadalcanal Island have been beaten off by Marines and soldiers at a cost to the enemy of five tanks and heavy casualties, the Navy announced late Oct. 25. Four attacks were launched during the night of Oct. 23 and 24, paced by tanks and covered by a field artillery barrage, and the fifth attack was thrown back early the next morning. U. S. artillery, firing from emplacements in the dense jungle, were credited with a large share of the American success in the first real test of strength with the Japanese on the Island. In fighting at sea and over land in the Solomons area between Oct. 23-25, 21 Japanese aircraft were destroyed and three damaged, three vessels damaged and two probably damaged, with the loss of one U. S. airplane. Earlier the Navy reported the destroyers O'Brien and Merrill were lost in the Solomons as a result of enemy action.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Australia announced Oct. 26 that Allied planes operating from Australia in support of American forces in the Solomons have delivered another heavy blow to Japanese shipping in Rabaul harbor, increasing their total sunk or damaged there to 100,000 tons in three days. A cruiser, destroyer and two cargo ships were believed definitely to have been sunk. Lt. Gen. Stillwell's Chinese headquarters reported American planes raided Hong Kong Oct. 26 for the second time in two days and also dropped bombs on Japanese-held Canton.

U. S. Flying Fortresses destroyed nine German fighters in attacks on the Lorient submarine base and a Nazi airfield near Cherbourg, Army Air Force headquarters in London announced. Three U. S. bombers were missing. The Navy announced the sinking of five more U. S. merchant vessels in the north Atlantic, four in July and one in September. U. S. Naval forces again raided the Gilbert Islands, sinking two patrol boats and damaging two larger vessels.

Rationing

Price Administrator Henderson ordered nationwide rationing of coffee, effective at midnight on Nov. 28, on the basis of one pound each five weeks about a cup a day for all persons who are 15 years of age or older when they registered for sugar supplies on May 4-5. All retail sales of coffee will be frozen at midnight, Nov. 21, for the week before rationing begins in order to permit merchants to stock their shelves. Consumers will not have to register to obtain coffee. They will use their sugar rationing book. To get the first coffee ration, the consumer will be required to surrender the last

REGISTRATION FOR FUEL OIL RATIONING

The registration for fuel oil used for heating and hot water was postponed one week by the local rationing board so that people in Bethel and vicinity will register at the Bethel Grammar School on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 2 and 3, between 3:30 and 8:00 p. m.

Applicants must bring their applications properly filled out.

Please note that this registration by the school applies only to oil used for heating rooms and hot water. Oil or kerosene used for cooking and lighting are not included.

If you have not received your application from your dealer, you should do so at once in order to complete the information required before bringing the application to the school.

TRUCKS MUST HAVE CERTIFICATES TO GET GAS, TIRES, REPAIRS

Farm truck owners must have Certificates of War Necessity by Nov. 15 in order to obtain gasoline, tires, and repairs. This is a part of the Office of Defense Transportation effort to keep all necessary trucks on the road and to eliminate all non-essential truck use.

To assist farmers in Oxford County to comply with this program, a County Farm Transportation Committee has been appointed by the USDA War Board. The Transportation Committee consists of Robert D. Hastings, Bethel, chairman; J. Carleton Conant, Canton; Ralph Hill, Fryeburg; George Skinner, South Paris; and Leon Newcomb, Norway.

Forms have been mailed to each farm truck owner for him to use in applying for a Certificate of War Necessity. This form is designated as SU-A and provides an opportunity to record information which must be submitted in order to obtain the Certificate of War Necessity.

Mr. Hastings' attention has been called to the fact that some farmers have not received their SU-A. These men must nevertheless, have the Certificate of War Necessity in order to obtain gasoline, tires and repairs in order to operate their trucks. Instructions received by the County Farm Transportation Committee indicate that men who have not received the Form SU-A should write to the ODT Office, Chapman Building, Portland, requesting Form CWN-4. This may be used to apply for the Form SU-A which will, in turn, be used to submit the information necessary before the Certificate of War Necessity may be obtained.

In a few cases, there will be farmers who operate three or more trucks, who will be considered as fleet operators. The form they will need is FU-A.

WILTON MEETS GOULD SATURDAY

The final game of the season will be held at Bethel, Saturday, with Wilton Academy furnishing the opposition. Wilton has played Gould on numerous occasions, but the Bethel team has yet to be beaten by them, and it is with this hope, or jinx, may we call it, that they feel confident of turning in another victory. The teams on paper show Wilton a decided superior team, but so has the odds been stacked against the "Blue and Gold" in other Wilton-Gould games and the underdog has triumphed.

Eric Brown, Jack Haines and Nathaniel Bartholomew, former Gould Academy students, were week-end guests in town.

Mrs. John Thorne of Norwich, Conn., is returning to her home Friday, after spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Myron Bryant.

Mrs. Norman Sanborn returned last week, after spending three weeks with her daughter, Mrs. George Taylor, of New London, Conn.

Rubber Director Jeffers reported chemists would develop "within five or six months" a 100 percent synthetic tire good for all but military and heavy truck duty, but such tires will be allotted for essential civilian driving only. The first large synthetic rubber plant will be opened at Institute, W. Va., sometime in December. "Sometime after mid-1943, we ought to have enough synthetic tires to make an appreciable difference in the situation regarding essential driving. Sometime in 1944, we ought to have enough to begin to furnish tires to civilians for family use," he said.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

In the view of many writers, one of the obstacles to the swift and efficient prosecution of the war is what might be termed the "Washington mentality." It is an insidious form of disease which seems to strike a great many government workers, both the important and the obscure. The symptoms are an ever-expanding bureaucracy which is bound lock, stock and barrel in miles of red tape.

In a recent column, Dorothy Thompson touched on this trouble. "In Washington," she wrote, "the facts of life are the government itself. Therefore all the struggles of life occur inside the government.... In a normal city there is a constant interplay of interests, and one meets, day by day, industrialists, artists, officials, teachers, physicians, and all sorts and conditions of men, so that there is a constant correction and adaptation of one viewpoint to another viewpoint. In Washington, since there is no normal intercourse, the world enters in the form of lobbyists—ambassadors from groups in the nation to the capital.... And eventually the domestic life of the nation becomes as complicated as foreign policy."

In Washington, in short, thousands of people are continually striving for political or economic power of some sort. The big men in the government—the President, his cabinet, the heads of major departments—are surrounded by "yes" men who are seeking to curry favor in high places. As a result, many of the big men become super-sensative to criticism. They lose touch with the country. Often they are tremendously overworked and their energies are devoted to routine matters which could and should be done by underlings. There is a tremendous waste of time and effort in making decisions of major policy.

The lack of cohesion in the seat of our government has been shown many times. It has become a commonplace for top officials to make opposed declarations on the same subject. The rubber problem is the prime example of that—practically everyone in Washington has had his say about it, and the result has been a vast and needless confusion in the public mind. Selective Service policy is still another example. Every few days a new dictum is handed down—and very often it is greatly at variance with the one which preceded it. General Hershey says one thing, the state draft directors say another, some spokesman for the Manpower Commission or the War Labor Board says still another—and then the local draft boards, which are laws unto themselves, go blithely ahead and do what they please.

According to capital veterans, some of the ablest men in the country have gone to Washington—and unconsciously become victims of the "Washington mentality." As the old proverb has it, they can't see the forest because of the trees. They too are enmeshed in red tape, and they tend to regard criticism as a sort of treason. And in the meantime, the bureaucracy grows bigger and better entrenched, and the wheels move, slower and slower.

Dorothy Thompson believes that the answer, in part, is to "decentralize our bureaucracy—decentralize it to the point where once a clear policy has been laid down, decisions can be made all over the country and far away from Washington." Still another essential is to free responsible officials of routine paper work so that they can lay down clear policies. And a third essential is to stick to policies once they are made—and to keep third-string officials from bedeviling the public with confused and contradictory statements.

Any major change in Washington must be made by the President himself. The most important bureaus are under the control of the Executive branch, rather than Congress. He makes all the important appointments of personnel, and he has the power to clean house whenever he wants to and as thoroughly as he wants to. All agree that among the many men he has brought to Washington, there are numerous top rate ones. But it is felt that in many cases these men have not been given sufficient authority to adequately perform their jobs. And in many other cases these men have unconsciously tended to become complacent, and they need shaking up.

"We are still losing the war," said Assistant Secretary of the Navy Bard, recently. "And we should damn well understand it." Lieutenant General Somervell struck a similar note when he said: "If we continue to lose a little while longer, it will be too late to save ourselves, America and civilization."

Anyone who will take the trouble to compare a world map of today with a world map of 1940, will agree with those authorities. The United Nations are in danger of becoming the "have not" powers. The Axis dominates a large part of the world's most vital natural resources. All the Axis lacks in quantity is oil—and we have not yet made the Middle East, which possesses gigantic and fully-developed oil resources, safe from Hitler.

For that reason, it can no longer be truly said that "time works with the Allies." Time, instead is running short. So the fact that war production in August was 14 per cent behind the first-of-the-month forecasts (according to Donald Nelson) takes on a monstrous significance. Those forecasts were admittedly very high. But they must be met, no matter how tough the job is.

More than 100 pounds for every person in Nebraska was collected within three weeks during the Statewide "prairie fire" scrap drive which netted 65,000 tons of scrap.

GOULD ACADEMY

Girls' Dormitory Council

Elwood F. Ireland, Headmaster, announces the members of the Girls' Dormitory Council, as elected at a faculty meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 28; Betty Jobin, House President, Waterville, Vt.; Irene Goodrich, West Danville, Vt.; Margaret Spaulding, Hampden Highlands; Joan Witham, Camden; Betty Burton, Wiscasset.

Carl L. Brown, Publisher

At a short meeting on Friday, Oct. 23, the members of the Gould Academy Camera Club voted for officers for the year. They are:

President—Lincoln Colby, Topsfield.

Vice-President—Malcolm Brown, Englewood, N. J.

Secretary—Robert Foster, Bethel.

Treasurer—David Hawkins, Concord, Mass.

In the future, because of conflicts in schedule, the club will meet only every other Wednesday.

Meetings of smaller groups of members will be held during other periods and in the evenings for lessons and demonstrations.

The large darkroom being built in Holden Hall by Mr. Foster will be finished in a few more weeks and open for use by members of the club.

Dramatic Club

The Gould Academy Dramatic Club met for its regular session, in Holden Hall Library, Wednesday, Oct. 21. The meeting was given over to explanation of how "spot" radio announcements are written and produced. Using actual production scripts, Mr. Thompson directed different groups in "producing" several of them, with imaginative "sound booth," microphones, sound man, and actors working on split-second timing.

Science Club

The first regular meeting of the Gould Academy Science Club was held Wednesday evening, Oct. 21.

The club consists of 29 members, and the faculty adviser is Alfred J. Fortier. Officers for the year were chosen as follows:

President—Louisa Bacon

Vice-President—David Hawkins

Secretary—Carolyn Wight

Treasurer—Lincoln Colby

The program of the evening was given by David Hawkins. It consisted of an excellent demonstration on the use of the spectroscope to determine the presence of different elements. He also showed and explained how the white light of a carbon-arc lamp is broken up into its constituent colors by a glass prism. Members Carolyn Wight and March Smith volunteered to present the program for our next meeting, which will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 11.

Freshman Reception

The annual freshman reception at Gould Academy, the first big social event of the school year, will be held Friday evening, Oct. 30, in the William Bingham Gymnasium.

Upperclassmen committees are working actively to welcome officially the more than 80 freshmen.

In the receiving line will be Dr. George B. Farnsworth, president of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Farnsworth, and Elwood F. Ireland, headmaster, and Mrs. Ireland.

Students who are planning the program for the reception include Norman Jacobs, chairman; Robert Johnson, etc.

Last Friday morning it was discovered that some time, presumably the night before, thieves had entered seven of the overnight camps of F. H. Gunther on the Locke Mills road and stolen all the blankets as well as a mattress and pair of pillows. The loss is estimated at $100.

Upperclassmen committees are working actively to welcome officially the more than 80 freshmen.

In the receiving line will be Dr. George B. Farnsworth, president of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Farnsworth, and Elwood F. Ireland, headmaster, and Mrs. Ireland.

The Snapshot Guild

VITAL PHOTOGRAPHIC ACCESSORIES

Well chosen accessories will aid you in getting better snapshots such as this one.

NATURALLY, every experienced photographer has his ideas upon the subject, but I think everyone will agree that there are four basic photographic accessories which should be owned and used by every advanced amateur photographer. These are: an exposure guide, a filter, a lens hood, and a tripod.

Why so many? Well each has its use, and whether you own a fairly moderate outfit, or one of the latest and finest cameras, you'll find that each can help you to better picture making.

Take an exposure guide, for instance. It doesn't make any difference whether it is a photoelectric exposure meter, or a ten-cent pocket exposure calculator, it will take the guess out of exposure and prevent poorly exposed—and thus wasted—film.

A filter recommends itself because it has a pronounced effect on the quality of your pictures. Some people think a medium yellow filter definitely steps up the quality of outdoor snapshots because it makes clouds stand out attractively and darkens the general sky tone. And I agree with them. A filter is a worthwhile, inexpensive investment. A lens hood, of course, never seems especially vital, but it should be included in your kit because it performs a two-fold service. First, it prevents extraneous light from striking and entering the lens. And secondly, it thus gives brighter, cleaner pictures without any trace of the fog or lens flare which occasionally is apparent in snapshots.

Finally, there's the matter of tripods. Their outstanding quality is that they give you steady exposures without the slightest trace of fuzziness due to camera movement. And that's really important. Get one, put it to work, and you'll find that, like the other photographic accessories mentioned, it will help you produce better pictures more consistently.

FACING THE FACTS ABOUT WAR FINANCE

N. 1 This is the first in a series of pictorial articles in question and answer form compiled by the Tax Foundation to help the average American understand the serious and difficult problems of financing the war and what it means to us as individuals. Paying for the war is part of our battle here at home. Being a democracy, only we as a whole people can win that battle. We can win it only if we understand it.

This, the first in the series, gives a graphic, simplified picture of pending measures in relation to war costs, borrowing and the inflationary dangers of the latter. Succeeding articles will cover the various factors which contribute to the problem and which relate to how much we can raise and where

PENDING REVENUE MEASURES IN RELATION TO WAR COSTS

FIGURES IN BILLIONS OF DOLLARS

TOTAL: 76 BILLION DOLLARS

1943 Federal Expenditures

$1.3 Billion loaned to Government Corporations not included

Tax Foundation

1. What will the war cost in 1943?
Most recent estimates place the war cost for 1943 at approximately $70 to $78 billion, or an average of $2,000 for every family of four in the country.

2. How much of this cost will taxes pay?

The revenue bill now before Congress (arrow 1. in the chart) provides for approximately $25.5 billion of taxes or a little over 30% of the total federal expenditures for the year. Additional measures (arrow 2. in chart) might possibly raise another $4 to $5 billion through increased or new forms of taxes such as withholding or sales taxes.

3. How will we pay if not through taxes?

The expenditures for war not paid for by taxes will have to be paid with borrowed money. Looking at present tax plans, the Federal Government will have to borrow between $15 to $60 billion in 1943.

4. How much should we raise in taxes?

It is impossible to say just how much. It can only be said that we should pay as much in taxes as we possibly can—the more, the safer will remain the economy of the nation. Most congressmen and government officials realize that sizeable additional revenues are needed over and above those provided for in the present revenue bill.

5. Is borrowing an inflationary danger?

The type of commercial bank borrowing upon which the Federal government in large part is relying and upon which it may have to rely, unless some plan of universal, enforced savings is adopted, can be dangerously inflationary. It does not draw off inflationary income in the hands of the people but just the reverse, creates an even greater inflationary surplus.

There are some forms of borrowing which are not inflationary, such as the sale of war bonds directly to the people, and borrowing from savings banks and insurance companies, which in effect is borrowing the savings of the people. Section in the chart indicates the $12 billion which the Treasury has set as the goal of voluntary war bond sales for 1943, or an average of $1 billion a month. Present rate of sales since July 1 have averaged only $800 million.

6. What is the danger of delays?

Because of vastly increased incomes, wages and salaries, resulting from the production of war materials for our fighting men, and on the basis of present costs of living and available consumer goods, there is now a great surplus of money in the hands of almost all Americans which is not needed for essentials. This surplus is, in itself, an inflationary force already tending to push up the costs of living. Continued rising costs of living, which is another name for inflation, can consume the very surplus now available for taxes.

Taxing the surplus will do two things: It will help to finance the war on a sound basis and hold debt to a minimum; it will, in reducing the surplus money, reduce the pressure towards increased living costs and inflation. If we don't tax that surplus now, nobody will gain—it won't have helped to pay for the war—it may no longer be surplus because it may be needed to meet essential but greatly increased living costs—it will have been no benefit to the people who now have it, for it will go simply to paying a higher price for the same or even a lesser amount of goods—it will have gone up in smoke.

Time is vital. To finance the war and control inflation there has been needed and there is now drastically needed an entire program of adequate taxes, forced savings, rationing and wise, rigid controls over all economic elements—prices, wages, commodities and rent.

form are already beginning to dish it out as well as take it. And it's up to those of us on the home front to do as good a job here as is being done on those other fronts.

Let's ask ourselves—are we doing a better job than ever? Are we keeping up all the amenities of daily living in addition to the volunteer work we have undertaken? Are we entering wholeheartedly into every community activity needed to speed the war?

The men of this country are up to their ears in active war work of one kind or another—in the Army or in Industry. The homes of the nation are our responsibility as never before. If they're worth fighting for, they're worth keeping at those gracious best.

The home today more even than in peacetime is the core of our American life. It must be kept sound and wholesome throughout this upsetting time if we are really to win this war. It must be warmed with kindness and cheer if not with fuel!

So don't feel badly, my stay-at-home friends, if you can't join the army or work on the assembly line, all-important as they are. Industry is already performing miracles and will do still more in the months to come. Our men in uni-

ANNUAL MEETING OXFORD COUNTY FARM BUREAU AT SOUTH PARIS, NOV. 4

Annual meeting of the Oxford County Farm Bureau will be held at South Paris on Wednesday, November 4, with Jack C. Nisbet, director of extension and promotion of the American Jersey Cattle Club as the main speaker. Other speakers on the program will be Mrs. Sumner Sewall, wife of the governor, and Miss Katharine Potter, state leader of the Women's Farm Service. The meeting will open at 10:00 with inspection of exhibits and at 10:30 president Paul Wadsworth will call the meeting to order and deliver the address of welcome.

Mr. Nisbet is scheduled to appear on the program at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon. Preceding his address, Janice Ripley and Louise Hammond of South Paris, state winners of the 4-H dairy foods preparation contest, will present a demonstration on preparing milk drinks. They will give this demonstration in competition for national honors at the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago in December.

A canteen meal is to be served at noon in the South Paris Grange Hall by the Norway Red Cross canteen group.

It was voted to allow the C. of C. the use of our dishes and equipment for a supper at their next meeting.

One of our members as usual aided at the last well-baby clinic and reported 20 babies present with 10 being given toxoid.

Mrs. Marjorie McAlister has been busy assisting at the finger-printing which was taken last Thursday.

Quite a number of our members who have taken some part of the Civilian Defense program were fingerprinted on the way to the meeting.

Our rooms are to be used the next few weeks for an advanced class in first aid.

Lois Ann Van Den Kerkhoven sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Scarborough.

★ What You Buy With ★ WAR BONDS ★

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances.

Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest to percent of your income.

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.
